REGION BRACING FOR ANOTHER BIG STORM

By Paul Sisson

Additional wind and rain erosions to counties already battered by a recent storm threatened to drench another 1 to 2 inches or precipitation starting Thursday and a third storm looming probably early next week -- that the San Diego County Board of Supervisors held a special meeting putting in place prohibitions against demolition or construction within 200 feet of urban ZIP codes where last week's flash floods occurred.

Turned an “emergency ordinance.” The actions approved in a 4-1 vote prohibits “residential, commercial or just-in-case use of several zones and southern San Diego County. North San Diego County’s Temporary Housing Ordinance and Emergency Ordinance unless defendants show “that there is an imminent health or safety threat.”
