Israel’s war zone awash in U.S. arms

Lethal weaponry floods in out of the public eye as alarm builds over tactics

BY JOHN HUDSON
The United States has quietly approved and delivered more than 160 separate foreign military sales to Israel since the Gaza war began Oct. 7, amounting to thousands of precision-guided missiles, artillery shells, and ammunition. These sales include tank ammunition, precision-guided munitions and other arms that will probably hit the war-torn Palestinian enclave. The military sales to Israel have been a chronic concern for the Biden administration, which is trying to keep Secretary of State Antony Blinken on track for a comprehensive Middle East peace plan.

Hackers enumerated

A Russian hacking group that is believed to be part of Russia’s military intelligence service has been targeting U.S. and European firms since at least 2015, according to a new report by cybersecurity firm Check Point Research.

The hackers, known as Invisible Hand, have been using malicious code to access corporate networks and steal sensitive information.

Haley’s exit clears path for Trump

BY DIANA WALLS AND AMY B WANG
CHARTERS, S.C. — Nikki Haley, a former U.S. ambassador and governor of South Carolina, has announced she is running for Trump with no major opponents left on the Republican side of the 2024 presidential contest.

ELECTION 2024

Reap election is on in earnest

BY TAYLOR OGRISSENA and TIAGO ARAUJO
President Biden’s campaign aides have long said that if their presidential run became a clear contrast between two cliques, their electoral prospects would improve. Their latest efforts are expected to take shape in the form of a primary challenge to Biden’s leader- ship, with the White House’s recent focus on efforts to draw a clear contrast with the Republican Party’s nominee.

Debt relief advocates say the $9 billion forgiven isn’t enough for voters to want to support Biden’s campaign.

Biden is leading

According to a recent poll, Biden is leading with 53% of the vote.

The reactions of both men to the 2024 presidential race have been mixed. Biden’s team has been focused on building a coalition of moderate and progressive voters, while Trump’s team has been focused on appealing to conservative voters.
